Work Experience

Flutter Developer

GAVS Technologies

07/2023 - 07/2024

This project is a mobile banking application that offers a wide range of financial services. This type of application can provide users with the convenience of managing various aspects of their finances in one place. In that project, I was working on the life insurance product, which is a high-value product. I designed the entire screen based on client requirements and Figma designs and integrated APIs with it as the backend. The product has now been successfully launched on the Play Store and App Store.

Hybrid Mobile Application Developer

VVDN Technologies

08/2021 - 05/2023

Hybrid apps are popular because they allow
